Our Sustainability Commitment

Glens Removals & Storage is firmly committed to sustainable business practices to protect our employees, customers, communities, and the environment. We work to minimize our global environmental impact in all business activities we undertake, whether it's through the landscapes we touch, the air we breathe, or the roads and waters we travel over. We strive to identify new ways to be energy efficient in our workplace and beyond while delivering eco-friendly solutions to our customers. By recycling moving materials, implementing sustainability programs, and focusing on more-efficient transportation processes and technologies, we are not only helping our customers save money but also help protect the environment and our future.

Reducing Energy Consumption

Across our services and locations, we identify ways to drive meaningful change and increase our energy efficiencies. We use eco-friendly office equipment like solar lighting and implement paperless practices through the use of an ERP system. We reuse and recycle packing materials and crates and have idling-prevention controls in our fleet vehicles to cut down on emissions.

We engage in several initiatives to ensure that we and the supply chain partners we work with are committed to measurable activities that help us all work together to achieve better protection of our environment. From collecting and recycling used batteries, and tyres from our businesses and team members, to careful choices about the office cleaning products we use.

We engage in several efforts that not only help our customers have an easier move but minimize the environmental impact at the same time. Discard and donate programs lower shipping volumes by 10 percent or more, removing unwanted items before the final pack and load. These efforts not only de-clutter homes to enhance the market appeal and help our customers get more easily and quickly settled in at their new destinations, but help realize meaningful positive impacts on the environment each year.

A Focus on Well-Being

The strength of Glens Removals & Storage is in our people, and we engage in several initiatives that holistically encourage the mental and physical health and well-being of our team members and the citizens we live alongside. We provide our employees with loans and medical aid support, and seminars that offer access to educational information and encourage healthy habits.

Fostering a Positive Learning Environment

We believe that the only way to keep moving forward is to constantly learn, grow and develop. We support a wide variety of educational initiatives to help our employees, their family members, and our local communities achieve their educational goals, including offering a tuition reimbursement benefit, a student attachment program for the children of our employees, and those in local universities.

We are continually adapting and updating our CSR plan to ensure we meet and exceed it's targets, here are just some of the other ways in which we strive to do this:

Environmental Friendly

We consider environmental protection and sustainability to align with our company goals and values and an imperative consideration in our business processes.
